

Then grew the learning of the schoolmen to be utterly despised as barbarous.

—Francis Bacon

The states won a preliminary skirmish with the federal government yesterday in the Tidelands Oil Case when the senate rejected the Hill measure which proposed to confirm federal seizure and turn the revenues into federal aid for schools and colleges.

Last night I heard union labor propagandists on the radio berating Arkansas Senator John L. McClellan and a long list of Democratic and Republican senators for "voting against the schools."

It's a lie. The United States Supreme Court stole the tidelands from the state government by simply writing something on a piece of paper. Nine men wrote themselves a new law without benefit of the congress. Not even nine, at that, because two of 'em didn't participate. Seven lofty, remote, arrogant judges wrote a new law and upset the whole history of land ownership in our America. Not even seven, at that. The decision to steal the tidelands from the state governments was split, four to three.

One judge — one alone — took it upon himself to change the fundamental law that had governed tidelands ownership ever since this republic began.

The people, mind you, had nothing to do with this — nor the people's congress. Only the supreme court did it — nine men picked by the President to review law, not write it.

Today we have an ominous paradox: It's the supreme court that writes a law, and it's the congress that has to review the actions of the court. That's what the congress is trying to do now — return to the states the tidelands that the supreme court stole from them in 1947.

But we are close to the edge of disaster when the highest court in this republic becomes a political tool and forces justice to be pleaded in the halls of congress instead.

It is a disgrace upon the name of America — and the claim that this stolen land would be dedicated to federal aid for education is no more than the ploy of a common thief that he was going to turn his loot over to charity.

In the whole history of this republic the courts have held without exception that the state governments own the submerged lands on their boundaries for three miles out. Would the federal government, stealing those oil-bearing lands, give the money to schools? Well, what do you suppose the state governments were doing with the money?

I have in front of me the running story of how the tidelands steal was worked. It's a story of how the congress was bypassed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, his army of bureaucrats, and the supreme court whose membership he managed to bring around to his liking.

My chronology is taken from Bulletin No. 94, March 5, of the Council of State Chambers of Commerce. But this is no chamber of commerce propaganda. It is a fact report of public statements made by the government officials involved.

And I might add that among those fighting the tidelands steal are: The Conference of Governors, the National Association of Attorneys General, the Council of State Governments, the Conference of Mayors, the American Bar association, and many others.

Well, here's the story of how the federal bureaucrats made their steal: August 17, 1936: The late Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, a radical but law-abiding member of the Roosevelt cabinet, conceded that the tidelands belonged to the states, not the federal government. He wrote this in a letter which was offered in evidence at a senate committee hearing. But—

April 27, 1937: Ickes was called to a luncheon with President Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins, and Ickes later testified in public that "the President raised the question as to the ownership of oil found under the ocean."

Shortly after this the Roosevelt administration introduced a series of resolutions in congress which, in the language of the house judiciary committee's Report No. 685:

"Would have attempted to appropriate for the United States, without compensation to the states, the three-mile marginal belt as a naval petroleum reserve."

I think it is pertinent at this point to remark that nothing was said about "schools" — the federal politicians were simply grabbing for money. The "school" fraud was invented after the bureaucrats got bumped hard by the congress.

Resuming our story: Congress turned down the Roosevelt resolutions.

Roosevelt died. Harry Truman became President. In 1946 congress passed House Joint Resolution 225 specifically affirming title to the tidelands in the states of the United States.

Western Union Strike Closes State Offices

By The Associated Press

Idleness through strikes grew in Arkansas Thursday as Western Union offices were closed by a walkout of telegraphers.

There was no immediate estimate by Western Union as to how many employees were idle, but most offices in the state were shut down in the nationwide strike.

James E. Carlton, superintendent of the company's Little Rock office, said about 65 employees were on strike.

Picket lines were thrown around the Little Rock office.

Western Union offices also were closed but had no pickets at Ft. Smith, Fayetteville, Blytheville, Continued on Page Two their absolute defeat in the congress, then turned to the courts. They drummed up a suit to recover the submerged lands claimed by California, and —

June 23, 1947: The United States Supreme Court wrote a law which the congress had specifically rejected — took away what was California's and gave it to the federal spoliators.

Of this strange and ominous decision Roscoe Pound, dean emeritus of the Harvard Law school said:

"It is a startling proposition to tell Americans that sovereignty which we have thought of us as political, must be proprietary as well — must include ownership of the soil."

The house judiciary committee stated: "The court by its decision not only established the law differently from what eminent jurists, lawyers, and public officials for more than a century had believed it to be, but also differently from what the supreme court apparently had believed it to be."

The average citizen might suppose that the tidelands are an academic issue as far as Arkansas a landlocked state, is concerned. You would say, offhand: "It's too bad about California, Texas, Louisiana, and the other seacoast states — but how are we hurt?"

Let me tell you something: This is a land grab by the federal government.

Once you start grabbing by supreme court decisions, without action of the congress, and without payment — where do you stop?

A decade ago the federal government came into Hempstead county and condemned more than 50,000 acres of land for a war plant. It had the sanction of the congress, it was according to due process of law, and the government paid for what it took. But how would it be done today?

The tidelands case is a steal — nine men on a bench, two not voting, and the final decision resting with one man — in this nation of 150 million people, whose duly-elected representatives and senators had previously forbidden this very thing.

Maybe this will bring the meaning home to the people of Arkansas.

"We are not a coastal state, but the tidelands issue includes us, believe me. The best legal opinion today is that the supreme court's decision clouds the title of all the states to lands, minerals, and other things under their navigable lakes and rivers."

Who and what is safe from the robber barons that F. D. R. put on the supreme bench to sidestep the congress and destroy this representative democracy?

I know of no more damning evidence how fair play and common sense have been sacrificed by the American people while supporting a certain gang in Washington.

Government in Threat to Seize Steel Industry

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The Truman administration held over the steel industry today a threat of government seizure unless a strike due next Tuesday is averted.

The effect of the seizure threat—whether or not it is carried out—was to increase pressure on the industry to grant government-suggested wage boosts to Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers.

About 700,000 of the union's one million members are ready for a walkout in the basic steel industry at midnight April 8. The other works, mainly in the steel fabricating plants, are ineligible to strike at the moment.

Steelmakers have said they cannot afford to give Murray the 17 1/2-cent hourly pay boost, plus union shop and other benefits, without getting government permission to raise prices. The government apparently was standing firm against increase in prices, contending it would cause more inflation.

The seizure threat brought a heated reaction from Congress. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said it would be "very high-handed and arbitrary" and, to his mind, illegal. Sen. George (D-Ga.) and Sen. Maybank (D-SC) also doubted legal authority for taking over the industry.

Even government lawyers, instructed by John R. Steelman, acting defense mobilization boss, to "consider all eventualities," seemed none too sure of the legal basis for seizure.

Some Bankers, Looked Upon as the Simon Legrees of Finance, Long to Be Liked

By HAL BOYLE

New York, April 3 (AP)—There have been times in America when the banker was regarded as an ogre in a starched collar, a Simon Legree of finance.

During periods of depression farmers sometimes used to keep a pitchfork sharpened, just in case the banker showed up to foreclose.

But bankers, as do convicts and baseball umpires, yearn to be liked. And lately they've been doing all sorts of things to make a bank more money — from putting in soft music to providing nursery service while mama deposit's papa's paycheck.

Banker Harold C. Hahn has pioneered a step farther.

"It would be nice if people could know we're not just a cold name but a friendly organization," mused Hahn, who is president of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of New York, one of the largest in America.

What bothered him was that in the past war assembly line procedure of home-buying, his bank was arranging hundreds of mortgages through lawyers, real estate men and other intermediaries. But it wasn't feeling the homeowners.

So he created one of the oddest posts in financial history—an "ambassador of good will" to go out and make friends among the young couples of whose homes his bank held mortgages. The job went to small, dark-haired Mrs. Clara Maxwell Young, a former psychology student and mother of 7-year-old twins.

She drives about 20,000 miles a year calling on housewives, explaining how the bank works, and discussing problems of household decoration and finance.

"My first problem is to convince them I haven't come to interfere with their money," she said.

"Many people think of a bank as a cold-hearted institution just waiting to foreclose on them. They are startled at first at the idea it could take any real interest in their home ownership problems."

"But then they warm up quickly. Often I am the first person in the community who has called on them and they ask my advice on all kinds of things."

These include such matters as the right color for kitchen drapes, how to care for an expectant bulldog and the best way to bring a canary out of an epileptic fit.

Mrs. Young has had to deal with more than one emergency.

States Win Nod on Tidelands; Veto Possibility

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The Senate yesterday approved the controversial tidelands bill giving states, instead of the federal government, clear title to oil-rich lands in their coastal areas.

The House has passed a somewhat similar bill, but the measure is still far from becoming law. First, differences between the Senate and House bills must be ironed out. Lawmakers do not believe this will be difficult.

The finally approved bill then goes to President Truman, who vetoed a similar measure in 1946 and may veto the new one.

Following the 50-35 Senate roll-call vote yesterday, senators expressed conflicting opinions whether the legislation could be passed by the required two-thirds majority over the anticipated veto.

The Senate measure gives the states outright ownership to the lands beneath the marginal seas for a distance of three miles out from their shores except in the cases of Texas and Florida, where the distance is 10-12 miles because of conditions under which they were admitted as states.

The House bill not only gives the states title to the marginal belt, but provides also that the states should receive 37 1/2 per cent of all revenues from oil and gas developments in the Continental Shelf out beyond the state seaward boundaries.

The Supreme Court has ruled that the federal government has paramount rights to submerged coastal areas. However, if Congress passes a law saying the states own such areas, the court ruling would not apply.

Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) author of the House bill, said after yesterday's Senate vote he would agree to the Senate changes.

"I don't think there's much possibility the House Judiciary Com-

Bill Would Change Name of Narrows to Lake Greeson

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The names of two Arkansas lakes formed by government dams would be changed by the House-approved Civil Functions bill.

The House approved the bill yesterday. It refused to alter recommendations of its Appropriation committee, except for the name changes.

Under an amendment sponsored by Reps. Norrell and Harris, Arkansas Democrats, Blakely Mountain reservoir would be named "Lake Ouachita. The project is on the Ouachita river.

The other, Lake Narrows, would be called Lake Greeson in honor of the late M. W. Greeson, Prescott, Ark., civil leader.

April Toll on Enemy Planes Reaches 37

Seoul, Korea, April 3 (AP)—American Sabre pilots destroyed or damaged eight Communist jets today, running their box score to 37 for the first three days of April.

Today's total was taken in three battles over Northwest Korea, including history's longest jet fight. It lasted 45 minutes. Eighteen F-86 Sabre jets tangled with 80 Russian-type jets in that battle, fought as the sun was setting.

Here's the score: Destroyed, today, 2; April, 15; March, 37.

Probables, today, 1; April, 4; March, 4.

Damaged, today, 2; April, 18; March, 50.

Total, today, 5; April, 37; March, 103.

April Allied losses have not been announced. They are reported weekly.

A new jet ace, America's ninth, came out of today's actions. He is Capt. Robert H. Moore of Houston, Tex. He shot down his fifth MIG-15 on his 96th flight over Korea.

The seldom-seen "Type 15" Communist jet showed up in "MIG Alley" Thursday. The U. S. Fifth Air Force said one was probably destroyed and another damaged.

The high-winged "Type 15s" were flying with the faster, low-wing MIG-15s. American air officers said the "Type 15s" apparently were designed as fighter-bombers rather than interceptors.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, top U. N. commander, spent two hours watching the Sabres and Australian Meteor jets taking off from their Korean bases. As the last of the jets sped northward, he remarked: "That was really something."

"The two greatest qualities in a military organization are confidence and enthusiasm," Ridgway said, "and both are certainly manifest here."

Ground action Wednesday was highlighted by a heavy Communist artillery barrage, mostly on the Western Front. An Eighth Army briefing officer said the Reds fired 4,693 rounds.

The Reds probed lightly at six points. In Washington, the Defense Department said American battle casualties had reached 108,938, an increase of 102 in the last week. The increased included 63 killed.

Presbyterians Study Finances for New Church

Members of the First Presbyterian Church in their annual congregational meeting last night voted to proceed with the construction of a new church and Sunday school building as soon as proper financial arrangements can be made, and appointed a finance committee which is to begin work immediately on its phase of the program.

After receiving reports of the various departments of the church for the past year, the meeting was adjourned until Wednesday night, April 23rd. At that time, the newly appointed finance committee will make its report. The committee is composed of C. C. Spraggins, chairman, Tom McLarty, C. C. Lewis, and Mrs. N. T. Jewell.

Actual plans for construction must await the report of the finance committee, and the size of the new buildings whether they will be constructed all at one time, or in units, will depend on the report of that committee.

The church already owns a building site on South Main Street. From the reports made by the various departments last night it was indicated that last year was the best in the history of the local church.

Pilot of Jet Which Landed Here Returns for Visit

On March 4, 1951 a crippled F-80 jet fighter plane was landed safely at Municipal airport by a young airforce officer, Lt. James S. Whitto of Chicago.

Yesterday, April 2, that same pilot returned to Hope and visited friends which he made little more than a year ago. Lt. White, since landing at the local port, has flown his 100 missions in Korea and currently is enroute to Big Springs, Texas where he will serve as instructor.

While in Korea he had a closer call than the one here. While on a mission enemy fire knocked a hole in his plane that a man could almost crawl through. But Lt. White brought it in to discover the jet was too shot up to be of further use except for parts.

A picture of the plane made the Associated Press telephone wire and was carried in newspapers all over the U. S. This incident happened only a couple of months ago.

FBI May Probe Corruption; Truman Silent

Washington, April 3 (AP)—Attorney General J. Edgar Hoover today fired Newbold Morris from his job as the administration's corruption hunter.

McGrath handed the report brief letter he had just received from Morris informing him that he had the title of "special assistant attorney general" and was technically under McGrath's command.

McGrath declined to answer questions about the action, saying whether President Truman approved it.

McGrath wrote to Morris: "Please be informed that the appointment as a special assistant attorney general is terminated and your services as an employee of the Department of Justice shall cease at this business today."

"You are hereby requested to deliver all files, records and documents in your official capacity to the Bureau of Investigation."

"Very Truly Yours," J. Edgar Hoover.

With McGrath at the letter was made public. Director J. Edgar Hoover, Assistant Attorney General Duggan, who has been McGrath in appearance, House Investigator, and Attorney General James McHenry.

McGrath declined to say the next step would be. "There was a possibility FBI under Hoover might be out of clearing evil-doers."

Hoover's presence, when men were called into office, plus the attorney request that the files in office be turned over, seemed to support this.

The White House made no comment, but McGrath obviously had action with President Truman.

McGrath had taken the private conference of two hours with Mr. Truman which Morris outlined.

Visiting Queen Begins Full Program Early

Washington, April 3 (AP) — Queen Juliana of the Netherlands was early today to begin a split-second program that includes addressing Congress in English, shaking thousands of hands at three receptions and donning a diamond tiara tonight for a formal dinner party.

The queen and her husband, Prince Bernhard, are the first guests in the newly rebuilt White House. The President and Mrs. Truman moved back in only last Thursday after having lived across Pennsylvania Avenue at Blair House for three years.

There was a last-minute rush to get the place ready for the royal visitors. A small but formal luncheon will be given in the redecorated state dining room, but the White House staff, which includes many newcomers, was not considered ready to tackle the rigors of a formal state dinner last night, so it was held at the Carlton Hotel.

About 50 guests were invited to the dinner, given by the President and Mrs. Truman. For this event both Mrs. Truman and the Queen wore grey evening gowns.

The queen's gown was strapless but she wore with it a bolero of pearl gray chantilly lace. Her jewelry included a diamond tiara and brilliant diamond brooch.

Truman told his guests that "we have with us what I like to refer to as the fairy queen. We had the fairy princess with us the time before — before she became Queen of England."

He referred to the visit last November of Queen Elizabeth II, then Princess Elizabeth.

The queen and her party arrived late yesterday afternoon. It was raining lightly when she stepped from the plane.

Within an hour after her arrival, she underwent the whole gamut of the American way of receiving high guests — so different from the Dutch. But to those who know her she seemed to cope with it excellently and clearly showed she liked it.

There was all this in the first hour: rigid protocol, extemporaneous speeches to which she wittily replied, rain and wind which did not appear to bother her, photographers shouting at her, "Your Highness" — which she is not — for a better pose. Always, she graciously replied.

Prince Bernhard, who was in the cabin when the Royal Dutch Air Lines plane landed, was at her side and assisted her in going through the formalities at the airport.

Tens of thousands lined the parade route, a good number of them with small dutch flags in their hands, which they waved as the queen passed by.

A member of her entourage said the queen particularly liked the

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Hugh Bearden and Mrs. Belva Bailey.

Ex-convict Eludes Posse Near Lepanto

Lepanto, April 3 (UP) — A desperate fugitive still eluded a Point county posse today which was searching the marshes in this vicinity for Raymond Sanders, 24-year-old ex-convict wanted for shooting at officers.

Sanders fired at a group of four officers Tuesday when they sought to question him at the crude tent on the floodway near here in which he and a 13-year-old brother had been living.

Sanders also served a four-year prison stretch for shooting at officers near Brinkley in 1947.

Bloodhounds were unable to pick up Sanders' trail in the marshy bottomlands. Several leads provided by residents in the area failed to pan out.

One clue pointed to the possibility that Sanders was holed up in one of a group of house trailers which were moved from the Riverside section Tuesday. But a search of the trailers failed to flush the fugitive.

Meanwhile, Sanders' half-starved, 13-year-old brother, Billy, was being sent by officers to live with his sister in Michigan. The boy told Lepanto Marshal C. E. Guin that his older brother had told him to "keep my mouth shut if the law ever came after him."

Sanders has been quoted by officers as saying he never again would be taken alive.

The current search for him started after Sanders struck a Riverdale man with no apparent justification for his action.

DOROTHY DIX Middle-Aged Marriage

Dear Miss Dix: I am a widow of 50, with some income, and am marrying a man who is salaried. When we marry, does he assume the full responsibility of living expenses? Should this be discussed before marriage? Have you any further advice to give widowers and widows, grandfathers and grandmothers getting married?

Answer: To skip your second question first, all problems that give an indication of future trouble should be thoroughly discussed before marriage. This is very important in financial matters. Complete agreement should be reached on income and spending programs. With middle-aged marriages, these problems are, of course, completely different than they are with younger weddings.

A certain amount of financial security has usually been reached by the 50's, there is no question of providing for a family, and long-range saving is not as important a factor as it is in the 20's. However, since money is potentially always a source of trouble, its management should be thoroughly established whenever matrimony is contemplated. Just exactly how you spend your income is a subject so dependent on personal tastes and obligations that it cannot be answered arbitrarily.

He Pays Living Expenses
Traditionally, the husband supports the family. In other words, pays all living expenses. Whether you have income or not, it is still the best practice to have his salary cover essential expenditures. Your income could be used supplementally, to supply luxuries that otherwise could not be had, such as a car, travel, or special clothes.

By the time a man or woman has passed the mid-century mark, temperament and disposition are usually settled in a definite groove. Oftentimes the desire for companionship, the dread of loneliness, leads to marriage with an incompatible mate and subsequent unhappiness that is far worse than solitude. This is the chief source of trouble in marriage between oldersters, and its possibilities should be thoroughly weighed.

The difficulties are by no means always present, or insurmountable, is seen in the many, many marriages between grandfathers and grandmothers that are congenial, happy and rewarding. Two harmonious people, with similar tastes and hobbies, can make a fine marriage, setting a splendid example even for their grandchildren.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm a girl of 14 with a problem that is very serious to me. I know and like a very nice boy of 16. When he comes over, which isn't often, I go out to talk to him. And I don't see anything wrong in that. I stay in our driveway. However, the minute I get out my father shouts at me very rudely to come back in. If he would only speak gently I wouldn't mind so much. It gets the boy mad at me instead of at my father.

Answer: Why do you have to go outside to speak with your boy friend? Your parents should permit you to have him in the house; then there would be no cause for shouting or embarrassment. At 14, you should be allowed to go to a school dance or basketball game with a boy, or to an occasional early movie, or a neighborhood party. But most important, you should be permitted to entertain your friends at home, with your parents' co-operation.

Dear Miss Dix: I had been married eight months when my husband was sent overseas. He has been gone two months. A few days ago I received a letter from one of my old flames. Knowing I was married, he wrote me a letter that was practically a love letter, reminding me of "the good old days." I only had a school courtship with this boy, and liked him very much but have no feelings toward him now since I have found another and married. Should I answer his letter and tell him not to write any more, or ignore it?

Answer: To put the period of finality to the episode, write and tell the man that you don't wish to hear from him any more, and that you consider his letter in very bad taste. The matter should end there.

Newspaper Brands Germ War False

New York, April 3 (AP) — The New York Times today published what it called conclusive evidence of the falsity of Communist photo charges that the United States is waging germ warfare in North Korea and China.

The evidence consisted of statements by American experts on pictures which the Chinese Reds originally printed in the Peiping People's Daily March 15 as proof of the charges against the U. S.

Those American experts said the pictures, identified in the Chinese captions as those of deadly bugs dropped by U. S. invaders, were actually photos of harmless insects incapable of carrying disease, the Times said.

The U. S. Army, furthermore, identified a bomb which the Chinese claimed was a germ carrier as an M421 used for spreading psychological warfare leaflets, the Times said.

The newspaper devoted a column on Page 1 plus six more inside to the story, including reproduction of nine pictures from the Peiping paper.

The Times said experts consulted about the pictures were Dr. C. H. Curran, chief curator of insects and spiders at the American Museum of Natural History; Dr. Rene Dubos, bacteriologist of the Rockefeller Institute, and Army spokesmen.

The Chinese labeled one picture "poisonous insects which could fly, crawl and swim dropped on Chinese territory by U. S. invaders." Dr. Curran said the picture actually shows several stone flies in a petri shell, a glass commonly used in laboratories.

"These perfectly harmless creatures are often found in large numbers within varying distances from water, in which the larvae live. Their flight is slow and because they are poor fliers they would be extremely poor at disseminating disease even if they could be inoculated."

Survey Picks Taft to Win in Illinois

(Editor's Note: Illinois takes the political spotlight next week with a primary election. April 6. To see how sentiment is running, The Associated Press called on a large group of estimates throughout the state for the candidates in the survey below.)

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

Chicago, April 3 (AP)—Sen. Taft will win the Illinois Republican presidential preference primary in the collective opinion of Illinois newspapers and correspondents surveyed by The Associated Press.

The downstate correspondents and political writers on Chicago newspapers submitted estimates on the vote each believed will be cast for the candidates in his district next Tuesday.

The survey reached into all sections of Illinois.

Opinions expressed in figures were received for 38 of the 101 downstate counties for Taft, Harold E. Stassen and Wiley A. Bender; and for 35 counties for Eisenhower and Gen. MacArthur. These downstate figures today added up to:

Taft, 64.7 per cent; Eisenhower, 16.3 per cent; Stassen, 11.8 per cent; MacArthur, 3.2 per cent; Bender, 1.7 per cent.

Political writers on the four largest Chicago newspapers were asked to offer their calculations on Cook County (Chicago). Writers for three of them responded. The average of their Cook County figures for each candidate was:

Taft, 70.3 per cent; Eisenhower, 19.3 per cent; Stassen, 9.0 per cent; Bender, 5 per cent; MacArthur, 2.0 per cent.

Only Taft, Stassen and Bender, a Chicago hotel man, are on the ballot. Votes for Eisenhower, MacArthur or any others will have to be written in.

Writers are permitted in Illinois. Voters raise a slot and write in a name on a voting machine in Cook County and Rock Island County. They can write in a name on a paper ballot in the other counties. But they have to draw a square to the left and put a cross in the square.

This takes time and trouble — and adds to the difficulty of making forecasts of results.

The preference primary is a popularity contest. The 36 convention delegates who will be elected are not compelled to abide by the results.

Taft has the support of the Illinois Republican organization. Thirty Taft delegates will be elected automatically. They have no opposition in their districts.

There are 80 Republican delegate candidates. Taft managers claim 67, and Eisenhower supporters 10. Two are for Sen. Dirksen (Ill.) and one is for MacArthur. The other 10 are undecided or unannounced.

Sen. Kefauver is alone on the Democratic presidential preference ballot and no survey of Democratic prospects was made.

McMath In Another Road Promise

Pocahontas, April 3 (AP) Gov. McMath has promised that a contract will be let within 30 days for the completion of paving Highway 115 from Maynard, Ark. north to the Missouri line.

The governor assured a large crowd in Maynard (Randolph County) yesterday that the 15-mile-long job would be completed. He spoke in Maynard in between appearances in Weiner and Pocahontas on "McMath Appreciation" programs.

Last night, McMath told a crowd of 800 persons in the high school auditorium here that he was unable to greet Gen. Douglas MacArthur when the general visited Little Rock March 23 because he was in the tornado area of East Central Arkansas.

McMath also said that he was not invited to take part in the official greeting ceremonies. However, he said he sent a telegram to the general explaining his absence and bidding MacArthur welcome to his native city.

At Joiner, McMath said there'd be additional paving on highway 36 between Jonesboro and Brinkley. He spoke at a meeting of the Highway 39 Association.

Banks Accused of Practicing Law

Little Rock, April 3 (AP)—Two Little Rock banks are accused of practicing law illegally.

The Arkansas Bar Association yesterday asked Pulaski Chancery Court to enjoin the banks — Union National and Commercial National — from performing directly or indirectly legal service.

The complaint specifically asked that the banks be prohibited from appearing through employees in Pulaski Probate Court or prosecuting "for the purpose of procuring probate proceedings or for the appointment of themselves as executor, administrator or guardian of the estates of other persons."

Two Held in Mother's Death

Monticello, April 3 (AP)—Two men are held on open charges pending investigation of the death of Claude E. Dawkins, a 48-year-old timber worker.

Crew County Sheriff Jack Towler, who didn't give the prisoners' names, said they'd be held until an autopsy on Dawkins' body is completed at Little Rock.

Towler quoted the men as saying they dragged Dawkins into a vacant house in eastern Drew county after Dawkins became drunk.

They said they left him in the house, where his body later was found. The body bore no outward marks of violence.

Arkansans Split on Tideland Vote

Washington, April 3 (AP)—Arkansas senators — John McClellan and J. William Fulbright — split on the Senate vote to give the states title to land beneath the marginal seas.

McClellan voted for the bill, which was approved, and Fulbright voted against it.

Second Arrested for Robbery

Kansas City, Kas., April 3 (AP)—Detectives last night arrested Frederick Francis Deason, 32, on a fugitive warrant charging robbery at Hot Springs, Ark.

His arrest followed that of Harry Lee Bailes, 42, who was picked up last night. Bailes, who refused to write extradition, will get a hearing April 15.

Hot Springs authorities said the warrants were issued on complaint of H. C. Sullivan and Jack Walker, both of Danville, Ark., that two men robbed them of $1,000 and two diamond rings in a Hot Springs hotel a week ago.

Taft to Get Votes in Tennessee

Nashville, Tenn., April 3 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio counted on 19 of Tennessee's 20 delegates to the Republican National Convention.

The Tennessee GOP Convention yesterday, named four more Taft delegates, bringing the total for the Ohio senator in this state to 19. The twentieth delegates will be named when the Eighth Congressional District Convention is held May 2.

Included in the at-large delegates named yesterday, was State Chairman Guy L. Smith, editor of the Knoxville Journal. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the convention keynoter, declared that he was "heart and soul for Bob Taft. He's got what it takes."

He added that the country "is to be congratulated" by President Truman's decision not to seek reelection.

YOUTH DROWNS
Miami Fla., April 3 (AP)—Seven months ago John Cowan, 4, drowned in a canal behind his home. Yesterday his 10-year-old brother William drowned in a rock-pit a few blocks away. The boys were the only children of Mr. and Mrs. William Cowan.

Man Held Sane

Mountain Home, April 3 (AP)—State hospital physicians have reported that Clifford Jewell, who is to be tried here Monday on a charge of arson, is sane.

Soldiers Start Second Phase of Maneuvers

Fort Hood, Tex., April 2 (UP) — The second phase of Exercise Long Horn got underway along a 35-mile north-south front today with units of the U. S. 47th and 31st (Dixie) Divisions dug in along the banks of Cowhouse Creek.

The aggressor, enacted by the 82nd Airborne Division, was expected to attempt a bridgehead crossing of the creek. U. S. air power, meantime, rapidly approached a balance with aggressor air strength.

Officials of the armed forces' biggest military maneuver breathed a sigh of relief as the make-believe "atomic war" returned after a long week-end lull. To them it meant the probable end to an outbreak of brawls, fueds and, in one instance, murder that have marked the operation during its so-called breathing spell.

Troops were forced to put their minds and energies back to the business of fighting an imitation war instead of each other.

The 2nd Airborne Division announced it would conduct a full investigation into reports that some of its men fired on 47th Division troops with makeshift bullets such as the one that was used to murder a young mess officer earlier this week.

The death toll for the maneuvers stood at seven today — six accidental deaths and the one murder.

The seventh man to be killed since the maneuver started at mid-night March 25 was Stephen E. King, 22, of the Air Force's 3259th training squadron. His rank and home town was not immediately disclosed.

King's automobile crashed into a bus early yesterday between Killeen and Nolanville, Tex.

Second Lt. Harold Williamson, 22, of Washington, N. C., was killed Monday by a crude bullet fashioned by stuffing a brass cleaning rod into the end of a blank cartridge.

Pvt. Michael F. Kunak of Baltimore, Md., was accused of firing his carbine point blank at Williamson.

The 19-year-old paratrooper from the 2nd Airborne Division told newsmen and civil authorities he would "do anything" to get out of the Army.

Hunt Starts for Young Gunman

Lepanto, April 2 (UP) — A large posse was hunting the bottomlands near here today for a 24-year-old "dangerous" ex-convict with an apparent passion for shooting at officers.

Raymond Sanders eluded searchers last night after a rain washed out his tracks, preventing bloodhounds from picking up his trail.

Sanders fired at a group of four officers yesterday when they tried to approach the tent which has been his home on a floodway levee near here.

He once served a four-year prison term for shooting at officers near Brinkley in 1947.

Poinsett County Sheriff J. Lee Wright said Sanders subsequently has been quoted as saying he would never again be taken alive by officers.

Wright gave this account of yesterday's adventures:

Four officers went to Sanders' tent to question him about an alleged attack with his fists on J. D. Mack of nearby Riverdale. As the officers approached, Sanders opened fire with a shotgun but missed his targets.

Poinsett County Constable Luther Maynard said he apparently inflicted a minor hip wound on Sanders when he returned the fire. Accompanying Maynard on the excursion were Lepanto Night Marshal G. E. Guin, Revenue Agent Clyde Baker and Trumann Marshal Herman Talley.

Sanders fled, swam a creek and disappeared.

Later, he appeared at the home of Noah Tate, forced Tate to give him some clothes and disappeared again. Officers arrived at the front door of the Tate home while Sanders was going out the back door.

Approximately 25 persons had joined the posse hunting Sanders today.

France Gives Nod to Schuman Plan

Paris, April 2 (AP) — France gave its final "yes" today to the Schuman plan for a 50-year pact pooling the coal and steel resources of six Western European nations.

Key nations in the plan are France and West Germany. The West German Parliament previously had ratified it.

The Netherlands and Italy have started ratification procedures. Belgium and Luxembourg are expected to do soon.

The Council of the Republic, advisory upper house of the French Parliament, completed ratification of the plan by a 182-32 vote after an all-night debate. The National Assembly previously had approved the proposal.

The plan calls for wiping out quota and tariff restrictions on production and marketing of coal and steel in the six nations.

U. S. economists and government officials have backed it as a way of making Western European industry more efficient and as a step toward closer political as well as

Stratocruiser Lands Safely

Shannon, Ireland, April 2 (UP) — A United States Air Force Stratocruiser with 76 persons aboard made an emergency landing here today after a gasoline leak developed on a flight from Lakenheath, England, to the Azores.

The plane flew to Shannon on three engines and took off again after repairs were made.

NO APRIL FOOL

South San Francisco, April 2 (AP) — The caller said John O. Percy's home was on fire but Percy knew it was April 1.

A second call got the same treatment. Just another April Fool's Day prankster.

But after the third call, Percy, now a little doubtful, hurried home. It was on fire.

Damage was estimated at $5,000.

G. W. Loodadoo Seeks Re-election

Little Rock, April 2 (UP) — G. W. Loodadoo of Arkadelphia has filed his corrupt practices pledge for re-election as prosecuting attorney from the Eighth Judicial Circuit.

The circuit is comprised of Nevada, Clark, Hempstead, Miller and Lafayette counties.

Would Restrict Use of Water

Little Rock, April 2 (AP) — General Waterworks Corporation asked the State Public Service Commission today to place restrictions on the use of water in 10 Arkansas cities, including Pine Bluff and El Dorado.

The company, which operates the water systems in those communities, contended in a petition filed with the PSC that large compressor-type refrigeration and air conditioning units use a larger quantity of water and that the municipal water supplies derived from wells are threatened.

The company said it would be expensive to sink additional wells and install other facilities to handle the demand for more water — chiefly during the summer months. General Waterworks asked PSC to require operators of large refrigeration and air conditioning units to install certain equipment designed to eliminate waste through reuse of the water.

Other communities served by General Waterworks: Brinkley, England, Fordyce, Gurdon, Ham-burg, McGee, Morrilton and Rison.

Vols Have Hopes With New Manager

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series on prospects of Southern Association baseball teams for 1952.)

By DAWSON OPPENHEIMER

Nashville, Tenn., April 3 (UPI)—A new manager, a new major league, a new season, and the sure-fire short right field fence.

With those ingredients, the Nashville Vols hope to cook up a winning recipe in the Southern Association, perhaps good enough to win their first pennant since 1949, and certainly good enough to get into the first division and the playoffs.

The new manager is Hugh Porland, a veteran of the New York Giants farm system, who came here from Ottawa, Ill., last winter when the Vols signed their long-time working agreement with the Chicago Cubs and signed one with the Giants' system.

The Vols, and the Cubs, made the break because Nashville wanted a better source of players than the Cubs could supply. And the Giants already are stacking the Vols' lineup with players from their club.

Word from the Vols' spring training camp at Melbourne, Fla., talked of emphasis on pitching and running. Poland might depend on close-to-the-vest baseball with the bat as a feature. That's old hat, customary spring training stuff, however, to the Vols' fans, who are willing to bet it will be "business as usual" again at Salsbury Dell this year—the high fly over the short right field fence.

That fence, baseball's best known collection of boards and chicken wire that rests atop a "dumpy," fits right into the Giants' plans, too. The ball parks at Minneapolis and the Polo Grounds have short right field fences, too, a prime target for left-handed swingers.

Poland right now is eyeing the six left-handed pitchers on the Minneapolis roster. He wants some of them so he can carry at least four top flight pitchers on his pitching roster.

The Giants already have sent the Vols one left-handed hurler, Vince DeLoe, who also has come from the other farm and forwarded Nashville Left Fielder Jim Rhodes from Rock Hill, First Baseman Jim Marshall from Oakland, Third Sacker Bruce Pless from Jacksonville, Catcher Pat Tompkins from Ottawa, and Outfielder John Kropf and Shortstop Higgy Jansko from Minneapolis.

The prize of the lot possibly could be Rhodes, a left-handed batter who capped 31 homers for the Class B Rock Hill, S. C., club last year.

If these turn out all right, and the Giants have said replacements

Arkansan Accused Bigamy

Coulsville, Ky., April 3 (AP)—George Herdin Thurman of Rogers, Ark., has been named in a $10,000 suit alleging that he abandoned his wife and two children in 1938 and later bigamously married another woman.

The suit was filed here yesterday by Mrs. Virginia Shain Thurman, who said she worked to support their two children without any help from Thurman after he abandoned them. The suit said Thurman married again in Gary, Ind., without obtaining a divorce. That wife and another woman, the suit said, in Gary was slain, the suit said. It added that he married again in Indiana.

The suit sought an attachment against Thurman's estimated $120,000 interest in the estate of his father, Jess Thurman, Taylor-Jones, Ky. farmer and cattle dealer, who died Nov. 12.

The Louisville woman's attorney said she had not brought suit before because Thurman "didn't have time" before his brother died, leaving main interest in the estate.

Slayer Claims Loss of Memory

Camden, April 3 (AP)—Trial of Rufus H. Green, who says he remembers nothing of a slaying for which the state seeks to electrocute him, neared an end today.

Green, a 52-year-old painter, is being tried on a charge of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Night Police Chief Frank Willford at a Camden hotel last Dec. 8. Prosecutor Harry Crumpler is seeking the death penalty.

Green testified in his own behalf last night, and testimony today was to consist of statements from physicians. The case may go to the jury late today.

The defendant said that on the night of the fatal shooting he was grabbed from behind by two strange men in the hotel. He feared, he said, that he was about to be killed or robbed of a large sum of money he was carrying.

Green said he was carrying a pistol but didn't remember having used it.

Earlier defense witnesses had given testimony which seemed to be possible basis for a contention that Green is insane.

Cabinet Fuss Boiling on Appointments

By JAMES MAHLOW

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The old Tinker-to-Evers-Chance routine was like a soft-ball game compared with the Morris-to-McGrath-Truman double-play in which the president's two top investigators whose own conduct has been investigated by Congress—haven't much in common except years in politics and an ability to get into jams.

Although Atty. Gen. McGrath's Justice Department ordinarily would be the chief investigator of government corruption, the Truman administration seemed to think it necessary to bring in an outsider.

After several better-known men had turned down the job McGrath suggested Morris and President Truman appointed him special assistant to McGrath. At once Morris announced he'd start off investigating McGrath's department.

This in itself was interesting but not any more so than Morris' performance when he went before a Senate committee which wanted to quiz him about his law firm's connection with a ship deal.

While Morris is a New York City boy of 50 who battled well in the political league there, he got off to a country boy's start shortly after landing here where the political sluggers use lead pipes.

He insulted the senators, hardly the social thing to do because anyone could have told him when any insulting is done at a Senate hearing it's usually done by the senators.

You could almost hear them count to 10 to keep their tempers. What they said about him—something about over-emotional—was mild compared with what they did to him. They refused to let him have the subpoena power President Truman asked for him.

Still, he tried to operate. He called a big news conference and announced he was sending a long questionnaire to McGrath and the

Some Prices Advance in Retail Stores

By The Associated Press

Retail prices of eggs and a long list of fresh vegetables were a little higher this week in most stores.

Hams and turkey chickens were higher, but a pound lower in a couple of places. Otherwise the over-all level of meat prices was about unchanged, but a liberal sprinkling of rather sharp reductions to attract customers made this week look like a good one to do some extra shopping around in for meat bargains. Prices were off as much as 10 cents a pound on such popular cuts as leg of lamb, rib roast and sirloin steaks in scattered areas.

The advance in egg prices amounted to 2 to 4 cents as a rule and was generally attributed to heavier buying by stores preparing for a lively Easter and Passover trade. Wholesalers said it appeared unlikely that eggs would go up much more before Easter—and might well decline moderately after the holidays.

Vegetables higher in most produce departments included best quality green beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, onions, green peas, and summer squash. Market reporters said adverse growing weather in the South and a seasonal at downturn in production in some important vegetable areas of California were responsible.

Most fruits, including citrus, avo-

State Income Taxes May Decline

Little Rock, April 3 (AP)—A state official says he expects state income tax collections to decline this year.

Bohy Boarden, income tax supervisor for the state Revenue Department, said yesterday he expects the state to collect 12 million dollars in income taxes. Last year's total was 13 million.

Boarden said early returns indicated that less taxable income would be reported. He also pointed out that the 1951 Legislature allowed additional exemptions to taxpayers.

In 1951, Arkansas received 31,000 taxable and 18,000 non-taxable returns. All persons making more than $3,000 a year must file before the May 15 deadline.

Moody Seeks to Drop Tax Charge

Nashville, Tenn., April 3 (AP)—Moody of Oklahoma City, a former star, sought to dismiss a charge brought against him by the federal government that he evaded $73,014 in income taxes.

Moody's lawyer argued the charge was invalid because it had run out, and the state limitations was in effect.

The former basketball star, now an ice cream dealer at Metairie, La., at the time of the alleged tax evasion in 1933, 1934 and 1935.

Federal Judge Elmer Davies set a hearing in the case for April 11.

Costello Talked Much

Ark., April 3 (AP) — A federal judge says part of gambler Costello's trouble stems from the fact that he "talked too much" before the Senate Crime Commission.

Sylvester Ryan yesterday said one count in the indictment against Costello, on trial on contempt of the Senate.

Costello said he also would "talk out" three other counts in the indictment. If Costello kept his mouth shut and "constitutional privilege" self-incrimination when asked about his net worth and Costello answered many questions, but balked at others.

Costello was excused from today's session at which the judge is to hear arguments by Costello's attorneys, M. and suggestions from both sides as to what should be contained in the jury charge.

Costello's second defense attorney, J. Edgar Hoover, said he would go to the jury late in the afternoon to argue the first trial ended in a hung jury.

Costello's alleged racketeering activities were the subject of a committee report on the committee's refusal to answer a non-questions at its televised hearing a year ago. One of the questions concerned his net worth.

Condemns Mail Bomb Attempts

Frankfurt, Germany, April 2 (AP) — A leader of the Neo-Nazi Socialist Reich Party (SRP) today condemned mail bomb attempts made against high West German officials.

Count Wolf Westarp, a co-founder of the extreme rightist group which the West German government wants to outlaw, said no party leaders "have indicated such (bomb) action was called for."

Westarp commented in a telephone interview on the frustrated bomb plot against West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer last week which killed a German policeman, and on a letter bomb sent to German representatives at The Hague yesterday.

He added, however, that his party would "accept measures of force" if it had no other means of opposition to the present West German government, an obvious threat of action in case it is outlawed.

Wilson Feels Peace Is Strengthened

Washington, April 2 (AP) — Charles E. Wilson, who stepped down this week as mobilization director, believes American production gains have strengthened "the possibility of peace."

But industry now must press ahead to provide a standby arsenal — for instant use if needed — "as long as Soviet communism continues as a powerful threat to freedom in the world," he said.

This country, Wilson said, must be prepared "to spend an unknown number of years" in a constant state of military readiness "to move quickly into full mobilization."

Wilson sent his final quarterly report to President Truman last night.

French Hit Stiff Red Resistance

Saigon, Indochina, April 2 (AP) — French-led troops were mounting an stiffening resistance today in their efforts to wipe out three rebel Vietnamese battalions pocketed in the Red River Delta 50 miles southeast of Hanoi.

However, the high command said the French forces, supported by heavy artillery and aerial napalm bombings, were continuing to make progress and were slowly wiping out the Communist-led enemy.

Dispatches from Hanoi said "Operation Mercury," aimed at destroying a total of five Vietnamese battalions was nearing its end.

French forces said attempts to drive into the heart of the remaining pocket met heavy fire, however, Vietnamese soldiers fought from hastily constructed trenches and had to be driven out by French mobile groups. The French said 100 Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 75 captured Vietnamese liberated in one French attack. Elsewhere in the delta, 55 Vietnamese soldiers were killed in attacks on French and Vietnamese posts.

Work on P. B. Plant Delayed by Strike

Pine Bluff, April 2 (AP) — The latest in a series of strikes today gripped the government's multi-million dollar construction project near here.

Col. Hans Holmer, Little Rock district U. S. Engineer, said the latest walkout — a two-pronged affair — directly involved between 1,200 and 1,500 members of the AFL International Brotherhood of Hodcarriers and Common Laborers and some 500 members of the AFL Carpenters, Joiners and Millwrights.

Both groups threw up picket lines, which other employees refused to cross.

Col. Holmer said the laborers walked out because they hadn't received pay raises for which they struck for six days beginning Feb. 27. He added that the requested increases were still pending before the Wage Stabilization Board.

Holmer said he didn't know details on the other phase of the strike, but that he understood a jurisdictional dispute was involved. He estimated that 4,000 employees were idle.

Holmer's statement was the only official one on the strike. Neither Blaw-Knox Construction Co., the contractor, nor the unions would comment.

UN Firm in Stand Against Russia

UN Firm in Stand Against Russia. The Communists first proposed Russia as a neutral supervising nation at a staff meeting Feb. 15. The subcommittee of delegates last met Jan. 27, when it reached an impasse on whether Russia would be permitted to rebuild airfields.

Staff officers spent an hour today repeating well-worn arguments about Russia and the name to be used to designate Korea.

Col. Don O. Darrow, senior U. N. staff officer, said the Allies would insist on designating Korea both as "hank Kule" the Han nation and "Chosen" Morning calm. An Allied communiqué said he pointed out "it is absolutely essential that legal terms in this document be used for both sides."

Politicians Wonder What South Will Do

By JIM THOMASSON

Atlanta, April 2 (AP) — Political realists who are wondering where the South will go if Sen. Richard B. Russell can't win the Democratic nomination, are finding it difficult to get a clear picture.

In most Southern States, the Anti-Truman Democrats are still so jubilant over President Truman's withdrawal, they won't even think — much less talk — of anything but Russell as the nominee.

However, anticipating a wide open convention in which anything can happen some of them are beginning to look ahead.

And it is a good bet that two men — Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma — will be under careful scrutiny of some shrewd southern politicians between now and next July.

Virginia, home of Sen. Harry Byrd who was one of the original Russell sponsors, is one of the states where some thinking has turned to who will inherit the state's delegates if Russell fails to draw the necessary outside support.

Stevenson's name has figured in some private discussion there and he apparently will be watched closely until convention time.

Georgia's Gov. Herman Tamm, leader of the anti-Truman campaign and active Russell sup-

Another Strike at Pine Bluff

Pine Bluff, April 2 (AP) — Col. Hans Holmer, Little Rock district engineer, said an undetermined number of carpenters and millwrights struck today, halting construction at the government's seaport project here.

Holmer said the strikers have set up picket lines following a jurisdictional dispute. He estimated that 4,000 workers were idle. Details of the strike were not available immediately.

The multimillion dollar project, adjacent to the Pine Bluff arsenal, has been plagued by a series of recent walkouts.

Camden Murder Trial Starts

Camden, April 2 (UP) — The first degree murder trial of Rufus Green, 52-year-old painter, opened in Camden today with a battery of well-known legal talent representing both the state and the defense.

Selection of a jury occupied the entire morning in the trial of Green who is charged with the slaying of Camden night Police Chief Frank H. Willford December 8.

Witnesses told officers that Willford tried to arrest Green who was making a disturbance when Green shot him three times.

Representing the state in the trial is a battery of four attorneys including Prosecutor Harry Cumber of Magnolia who is asking the death penalty for Green. State Representative William Purifoy, a Camden attorney, is heading the legal staff for the defense.

Seven jurors had been selected by 11 o'clock this morning.

payor, also has recognized the possibilities in a wide open convention. Russell, he said, "will get the nomination — or at least help choose the candidates and write the platform."

Mississippi leaders don't have any idea yet to whom they might turn if Russell fades. But he would have to be a strong states rights supporter.

Governor-Designated Robert Kennon of Louisiana said on a visit in Atlanta that "four-fifths of the people I have talked with in Louisiana are for Russell."

In Arkansas, where Gov. Sid McMath has been a consistent supporter of President Truman, Russell is reported to have some delegate support, together with Stevenson and Kerr.

Says Airforce Strangling Aviation

Ft. Worth, Tex., April 2 (AP) — The airlines and the men who run the nation's airports have complained the Air Force is trying to "put the lid on" civil aviation in many communities.

R. M. (Bob) Roberts, an official of the Air Transport Association speaking for the airlines, said the Air Force is restricting commercial flights out of the civilian airports it controls, "without rhyme or reason."

"We want proof that this is necessary and not just something cooked up on the spur of the moment," Roberts said.

Brig. Gen. Harold R. Maddux, Air Force deputy chief of air installations, retorted that the service is only living up to its obligations.

"On airport terminal buildings, our interests simply clash," Maddux said.

The issues arose at a panel discussion at the annual meeting of airport executives. The discussion was so spirited yesterday it was continued by agreement into the final convention session today.

Asked how long the Air Force might retain the civilian airports it is reclaiming, Maddux replied: "How long are we going to have a cold war? I haven't heard one responsible official give an estimate of any kind."

"We are building a force on an entirely different principle than in the last war — on the principle that the existence of such a force will help avoid war."

In general on our projects, we are going a 10-year construction job — putting up the outer shell — but only because of the question of money. Otherwise, it might as well be 25 years.

"We see no termination of this period you ask about."

Roberts said a civil air fleet, available to the defense establishment in an emergency, cannot exist unless it is allowed to operate economically and to grow.

"More and more we are being asked to adjust our schedules to the training schedules of the Air Force," Roberts said.

"And we are very alarmed about the security problem — about the Air Force taking over the terminal buildings at an airport for 'security' reasons and forcing the airlines to move to small terminals at the edge of the airport."

"Until the saturation point for a given airport is reached, I don't think there should be any arbitrary restrictions."

Maddux said the Air Force is unable to make public the list of additional civil airports its wishes to take over until President Truman submits the Public Works Bill to Congress. In selling or leasing surplus airports after the war, the government reserved the right to "reacquire" them in the event of a national emergency.

Maddux said the Air Force wants to make as liberal payments for use of civil airports as are justified, but is "running on a very short budget, squeezing everything out of a dollar it can get."

George Haddaway, Dallas, editor of Flight Magazine, said typical military-problem airports are Monroe and Baton Rouge, La.; Blytheville, Ark.; and Galveston and Mission-McAllen-Edinburg, Texas.

Price Is Vital in Steel Talks

New York, April 2 (AP) — The steel industry announced today it would start negotiating with the CIO United Steel Workers Union tomorrow with the price situation "the big issue" standing between a settlement and a strike.

Talks originally were scheduled for Monday but were stalled for three days.

Soon after the industry announced that John A. Stephens, U. S. Steel vice president, told a news conference the industry would try hard to avert a strike of 650,000 steel workers tentatively set for April 8.

"The price situation is the big issue," Stephens said.

Chinese Planes Show No Desire to Battle

Seoul, Korea, April 2 (AP) — U. S. State photos today destroyed one MIG-15 and damaged two others of Chinese Communist Air Force that showed little desire to fight after the tough handling it got yesterday.

The Air Force raised Tuesday's MIG casualty total by two more damaged, confirmed after evaluation of gun camera films. These raised the day's toll to 10 MIGs shot down, three probably destroyed and 12 damaged. It was the second biggest daily bag of the war for the Salvo pilots.

Credit for the Wednesday kill went to Capt. Robert T. Latschaw of Amarillo, Tex. It brought his total for the war to three MIGs destroyed and three damaged.

He knocked the Red jet down in a 10 minute fight between 33 Sabres and about 30 MIGs over North Korea just before dusk.

Wednesday's two damage claims came out of a brief encounter in the morning. Pilots said they thought they hit a third MIG in this fray.

Sabre pilots traded shots with MIG fliers at other times during the day but the MIGs dodged back into their Manchurian sanctuary rather than fight.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said the Red armies failed to show up in force anywhere on Wednesday.

On the ground, a U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer reported only two Communist probes and scattered patrol skirmishes along the Korea battlefield Wednesday morning.

Counter attacked Allied troops Tuesday night and early Wednesday hurled back about 1,500 Chinese Reds who hit United Nations lines on the Western Front four miles from the Panmunjom truce tents.

The troops fought hand-to-hand at several points.

The Chinese, attacked with bugles blowing under the light of red and white flares after four probing jabs had been repulsed. The Allies withdrew, gathered for a counter-attack, then drove the Communists back to their own lines.

A front-line officer said Red casualties appeared "severe".

Trapped Man Dies From Exhaustion

McCrory, April 2 (AP) — John Russell, 86, mounted the rotted porch of an abandoned house Sunday to seek shelter from a shower. The flimsy flooring gave way and he fell through. The jagged boards held him fast.

His body was found yesterday. A physician said he died of exhaustion or a heart attack.
